Aside® Chairs

VISIBLE COMFORT

Looks can be relieving, like when you find a side chair—the Aside chair—that sits as good as it looks. This marriage of appearance and comfort is the work of designer Mark Goetz. He reasoned that people in workstations, participants in conference rooms, teams in collaborative spaces, and guests in reception areas all deserve a comfortable seat—whether they stay for seconds or hours. So he went for supportive contours, a high and wide back, and a double-thick seat cushion. And he put them into a sleek, refined profile that turns heads. All of which makes for an attractive, pleasant place to sit—by the minute or even longer.

DESIGNED TO PERFORM

Aside's distinctive appearance also powers its performance.

A generously padded, petal-shaped back doesn't curve inward just for looks—this shape delivers lumbar support. The outer shell can be ordered with or without upholstery.

The contoured seat—with a double thickness of high-density foam—is as comfortable as it appears, even when you sit for a long time.

The graceful slope of the seat's front edge adds appeal and, more important, reduces pressure on the backs of thighs and encourages proper blood circulation.

The arc of the chair's rear legs gives Aside a dramatic profile and protects its back from damage when people push the chair against a wall. Optional casters make the chair even more mobile.

Aside's multiple finish and fabric options extend its ability to perform in all kinds of spaces. And when it's finished performing, the Aside chair is recyclable—100 percent of it.
